

CADEM Media Credentialing Requirements

The California Democratic Party (CADEM) welcomes members of the press to cover our conventions and events. To ensure a smooth credentialing process, all media representatives must adhere to the following guidelines.

To apply for a press credential, please email comms@cadem.org with your first & last name, cell phone number and outlet you are associated with. Approved applicants will receive confirmation via email with instructions for credential pick-up.

Eligibility Requirements:

To be eligible for CADEM press credentials, applicants must be:

- Employed by publications of general circulation on a full-time basis preparing articles dealing with state government and politics. This may include, but is not limited to: major news outlets, established local news outlets, news wire agencies, and editorial staff and columnists with active coverage in legitimate news outlets.
- Freelance journalists must provide proof of assignment from a qualifying news outlet.

Additional Notes:

- CADEM reserves the right to limit the number of credentials issued to any single outlet.
- Press credentials grant access to designated media areas but do not guarantee interviews.
- All media permitted to cover CADEM events must adhere to the Code of Conduct.
- All media must RSVP and be pre-approved by CADEM. Any member of the media who arrives at an event without pre-approval will be turned away.

If you have further questions about the process, please contact comms@cadem.org. We look forward to welcoming press to the CADEM Convention!
